ALL CHANGE AT 'MERE MATTERS'

Having produced Mere Matters since September 2006, it is time for me to retire, and this edition will be my final one as Editor. From the November issue onwards the editorial pen will be wielded by Richard Jefferies, another Mere resident, and one well qualified for the task. Richard is no stranger to magazine editorship over the years and he has assisted me editorially in the background for quite some time now. He also kindly edited the July/August 2018 edition, while I was away on holiday.

I would like to thank my Mere Matters Team colleagues: Jane Kennedy, Advertising Coordinator; Alan Gristwood, Finance; and Vivien Sheppard, Distributor, for all their help and support over the years, which has enabled me to concentrate on the role of Editor.

I would also like to thank you, the readers, who have read my offerings over the past twelve years and I hope you will support Richard in the same way, and I wish him well in his endeavours to further develop the magazine for your benefit.

MERE TOWN COUNCIL

The Town Council meets every month. While it is not a public meeting, members of the public are welcome to come and listen. Council members are working on your behalf to sustain and improve the quality of life and the environment that we enjoy in Mere. You may raise questions in a public session before the meeting starts. The next meeting will be on Monday, 1st October at 7.30pm in the Andy Young Pavilion.

The Chairman writes:

In our September meeting we had a good few planning applications to discuss, which we had generated ourselves. These were about work on trees in the town. The council maintains a complete tree report detailing all of the trees (you may have noticed numbers on them) for which we are responsible. We are acting on the professional advice given, and taking action where trees need attention. There is quite a cost to this but as trees get older and larger it is necessary to manage them for the safety of all. The trees of Mere add so much to its charm and a quick look around from the top of Castle Hill reveals how many there are!

We talked briefly about the preparations for Remembrance this year and the Centenary of the end of WW1. We will be joining in with the rest of the country with bugle playing, bell ringing and a beacon on Castle Hill. Councillor Sims has been actively collecting funds and organising getting large poppies for display. We are also preparing a remembrance, particular to Mere, of all of the WW1 soldiers on the Memorial in the Square. We will have, for each soldier, made a memento in the image of the rifle pushed into the ground with a helmet resting on it. This will be displayed for a few weeks in the street where the soldier lived, and we will be asking for residents to volunteer to have it displayed on their property.

Our planning is based on the book "The Proudest Uniform" written by Angela McDonald which is available in Mere Museum. The mementos will move to jubilee gardens for the last week. On a personal note, as a lifelong pacifist, I have sometimes struggled with the idea of remembrance and how it reflects on war, but as I read the personal stories of these men I did appreciate how different times were then and wonder how I, and my family, would have reacted were I a young man living in Mere in those days. What we are doing in Mere should bring home to us all what the town went through in those days. As I said at the planting of the centenary Oak Tree earlier this year, I do hope that we remember not only the nine million soldiers who died, but also the ten million civilians who died, and that it should turn our minds to the importance of peace.

We heard about progress with obtaining a new lease for the car parks and public toilets. We discussed, briefly, the proposals for boundary review and how these changes may affect Mere Town and Mere Parish and our representation on Wiltshire Council. We also heard from Councillor Norris about the next step in developing our Neighbourhood Plan, and we agreed on taking the necessary actions to obtain funding so that we can buy professional help with the progress.

I had the opportunity to represent Mere at the Southwest Wiltshire Community Safety Group chaired by our councillor George Jeans. While the meeting discussed policing with representatives of the police force, I stressed the importance of having a police presence at big occasions like Mere Carnival. It was pleasing, at the Carnival, to see that this year we did have policemen there and I hope that future public occasions are treated the same. More importantly, I stressed how important it is for us to see policemen in the town, and not only driving through but 'on the street'. While I mention carnival, can I say what a good carnival it was, with lots of noise and lights and brilliant costumes and good cheer. My thanks, and, yes, I am one of them, to the volunteers that make events like this happen. But, also my thanks to the volunteers who help with Merrell's Mobile Foot Health Clinic.

John Jordan, Chairman, Mere Town Council

GEORGE JEANS, WILTSHIRE COUNCILLOR, MERE DIVISION, WRITES

Graham Avory is retiring as editor of Mere Matters; this is his last issue. He has been editor since September 2006, that is 12 years. I believe he must spend at least one week a month working with this publication. Much has changed in those 12 years I am sure, printing and computing methods, the local facebook account of Mere Mutters and more. However, in my opinion it is as popular as ever, being well received locally. I would like to give him a personal 'thank you' for all he has done, I am sure you readers also would equally like to thank him. Graham, I know, as I do, also works with more than one community group and he is a great asset to Mere. I hope he will have a little more free time which he thoroughly deserves.

Bus stops are few in this area, it appears the bus stop sign near Home Farm, Kilmington has been missing for some time, however it has now been noticed and I have reported it.

The Boundary Commission for England has published its final recommendations for new parliamentary boundaries that could see the number of UK MPs cut from 650 to 600. Regarding a review of the number of Wiltshire Councillors, which at present is 98, it appears this number will be maintained. The South West Wiltshire Area Board stretching from Mere to Wilton probably will stay as it is. When Wiltshire Council was created in 2009, much emphasis was placed on democracy and area boards. New or altered divisions such as The Mere Division need to be within an acceptable variance of 4,291 electors, which will probably mean little or no change for the area that I cover at present.

We in Wiltshire may find it difficult regarding obtaining some council services, however our neighbour Somerset County Council has announced major cuts to services and the loss of up to 130 jobs. The plans include reducing the winter gritting network, suspending park and ride services, removing Citizens Advice bureau funding, cuts to adult social care and support for people with learning disabilities, and cutting funding, and 80 jobs, from the GetSet programme which aims to keep vulnerable young people from going into care. The council's cabinet will vote on the proposals next week. Research by the Local Government Chronicle shows that since 2010, councils in England have made more than 220,000 members of staff redundant at a cost of almost £4bn.

A National Audit Office report says local authorities, and Government departments, are deemed worse than private sector creditors for the heavy-handed way in which they collect debts and manage people in arrears, "additional charges" on those in debt created extra costs and did not result in more money being collected. The NAO estimates that problem debt costs taxpayers £248m a year and the wider economy £900m a year. "The government lags behind the retail lending sector in following good management practice", the report says, with only 19% of councils adopting best practice guidelines.

Dubbed Generation Sensible, the 18-year-olds of today are much more likely to be found in the university library than the local pub, according to a paper from the ONS comparing their habits with those of 18-year-olds around the year 2000. Modern teenagers consume less alcohol, binge drinking is less common, and smoking rates among today's young people have also dropped - from about 35% in 2000 to about 18% in 2017. They are also socialising less - by about 25 minutes a day, but they also do more sport - eight minutes more a day on average. This leads me on to the young people from Seeds for Success; they have in Mere removed much vegetation and tidied up the front of The United Reformed Church and much improved the public area of Bishops Close. I was proud to be present when they were having their awards at Mere. They were dressed very smartly and were a credit.

Wiltshire Council, as I have said before, is responsible for public health, therefore I will mention that, the World Health Organisation has branded the UK the third fattest nation in Europe – fuelled by a fondness for alcohol. Research on 53 countries found Britain rising up the obesity league tables at an "alarming" rate.

I, and Graham Cotton, chair of Kilmington Parish Council, and others have had many residents from the Norton Ferris area contacting us about the blind junction when they turn North towards Frome. I said last time I think the probability of a fatality will be much higher without a mirror. I am pleased to announce the mirror can stay, all be it on private land, for which I thank the owner.

A local person asked me this year why potholes are not ringed in yellow, I sent this request into highways. I have been informed this cannot be done because claimants use the fact that a hole is ringed to try and force liability on the council.

The cost of rural crime has risen to £44.5m, according to NFU Mutual, with the cost to farmers at its highest point since 2013. Police said that thefts of agricultural equipment had driven the 13.4% increase in crime over the last year, aided by the "collapse" of close-knit rural communities and modern transport links that allow thieves to export stolen machinery in a matter of hours.

Data obtained from 20 councils shows £11m has been spent on 20mph limit zones between 2012 and 2017, covering 1,536 miles of roads. However, in some cases rates of serious accidents have gone up, prompting AA president Edmund King to urge councils to instead make improvements to dangerous junctions and create more pedestrian crossings.

Many thanks to all who attended the Community Safety Group meeting, and a special thanks to PC Matt Holland and PC Lee Pelling for once again giving their time to take part; we had representation from 13 out of 38 parishes within the South West Wiltshire area. To those parishes who do not currently attend, please be aware that this is an opportunity to ask questions directly about community safety issues in your local communities with officers who work directly in those areas. The next meeting will be early in 2019. I was pleased to see police at Mere Carnival and so, I believe, were the public for which I have sent an e-mail to thank the police.

It was asked if vehicle dashcam evidence can now be accepted. PC Matt Holland advised 'yes' and a policy is in place. Dashcam evidence can be handed in at any Police enquiry office (Salisbury or Trowbridge being nearest), and the procedure for submitting 'dashcam' evidence to Wiltshire Police. is explained on the Wiltshire Police website via this link - : <https://www.wiltshire.police.uk/article/2162/Dash-cam-footage-of-dangerous-or-careless-driving>

Vehicles obstructing people's property, especially parked on pavements, was enquired about. The Police advised the threshold for action is quite high whilst understanding it can be a very frustrating issue for people. Parking on a pavement is not an offence, but causing an obstruction is. Issues about parking around schools were also discussed. It was advised Wiltshire Council had instructed recently that two cameras are to be purchased to cover illegal parking outside schools. It was asked why speed cameras in Wiltshire were taken away. It was advised that revenue generated was collected by central government. I asked the meeting how many would support bringing back speed cameras. Less than 50% supported. It was said supported speed cameras were there to help saving lives and not just to generate income.

A joke about being fired from a Jobcentre has been named the funniest at this year's Edinburgh Festival Fringe. Liverpool comedian Adam Rowe won the award for Funniest Joke Of The Fringe with the line: "Working at the Jobcentre has to be a tense job - knowing that if you get fired, you still have to come in the next day." Taken from his Undeniable show, it picked up 41% of a public vote.

A reminder again I have a facebook page Cllr George Jeans, for use to display some events I attend and may be other material. It is not a platform for conversation at present, therefore I do accept friends request on the site at present; but I do not view it regularly, whereas : george.jeans@wiltshire.gov.uk or : 07710 441599, I can usually answer quickly.

MERE SURGERY

One of the best in England

Results of a national GP patient survey held between January and April this year were compiled from responses from almost 760,000 people across the country on their experience of healthcare services provided by GP surgeries, including access to GPs, making appointments, the quality of care received from GPs and other health professionals, waiting times, and satisfaction with opening hours and out-of-hours NHS services.

Only one Wiltshire practice made the national top 10 - Mere Surgery was rated the highest in Wiltshire for overall experience this year, but more importantly it was ranked seventh in the top 10 surgeries in the whole of England. That was number 7 out of the 7,109 surgeries in the country.

Doctors Ed Halsey, Eve McBride and Tim King commented: "We are obviously delighted by the results of the recent GP patient survey. It is very encouraging to have recognition of the work all our staff contribute towards providing the best possible medical care to the local community. It is a real team effort! Thank you to everyone who took the time to complete the questionnaire. We will strive to continue to improve the care we provide".

LINKSCHEME LITERARY FESTIVAL

8th -14th October 2018

The 22nd Mere Literary Festival begins on Monday, 8th October and an outline programme appears on the inside front cover with thanks to Mere Matters. Full details of authors and events are in the big green programme and on the festival website.

Programmes have been posted through as many letter-boxes as possible, so please take a look at what's on during the week. Your support will help the Link Scheme continue its work in our community. There are talks and events to cater for many interests, and two publishers have chosen to launch books at the Mere festival.

Farewell & thanks from the festival organiser...

This is to be my last festival as organiser as, after 22 years, I have decided it is time to hand over to a younger and more energetic generation. There are so many thanks due to supporters of the festival, past and present, that it is not possible to name them all within the pages of Mere Matters. Over the years MLF has grown into a true community event working for our own community charity. Thanks go to those who have featured in our annual programmes and made this possible – the Mere groups and societies who host or participate in events, venues, businesses and individuals who advertise or sponsor, and to all who have supported MLF in any way.

As well as being an integral fixture of the local calendar, MLF is now well established on the national festival list, and popular with authors who appreciate a relaxed atmosphere and contact with their audience. So I, the Lit. Fest. Group and the Link Scheme are very pleased to announce that MLF will continue, as Gail Garbutt, local business woman and author of 'Spot On', has volunteered to be the festival organiser from 2019. I am sure the festival will thrive under Gail's leadership and this is very good news for the local community and the Link Scheme.

Thank you all for your past and future support of Mere Literary Festival - the fund-raising arm of the Mere & District Link Scheme (Reg.Charity No: 1062328).

MERE CARNIVAL

When Clive Hazzard handed the baton on to me after over 20 years of chairing the Mere Carnival Committee I was daunted. There seemed so much to do to make the carnival happen, but thanks to the very hard work of our small committee Mere Carnival went ahead successfully. I was also delighted by the number of people outside of the committee who volunteered to help make the day something to remember.

I would like to thank the committee, all the local volunteers, the entrants to both the day and the evening parades who made such an impression, the marshalls and judges and 'thank you' to all the people who came, cheered and gave the collectors money.

If you want to help make our 2019 carnival even better contact me, whether you want to join our committee, volunteer to make the day run smoothly or even to dress up and join in the parade we would love to hear from you.

MERE & DISTRICT RAILWAY MODELLERS (M&DRM)

The club continues to model in the common gauges of O, OO, OO9. & N. The new layouts being constructed are a modular one for OO modellers, each member having their own board to design and model - what size the final production will be for the 2020 exhibition remains to be seen. Our two O gauge modellers have had a more conventional approach, and their layout has drawn the attention of visiting guests and has already been booked for a couple of local exhibitions.

The club will be demonstrating the authors new layout at Frome in January and to support this event the author's award winning "Toms Wharf" is on permanent display at Frome Model Centre. We have a new junior member (those aged under 25) who has fitted in extremely well, and is learning new techniques which enable him to fulfil the potential of his own model railway. We would also like to see a few more modellers, and some middle aged and younger members join so that the clubs legacy is ensured.

Our club is situated in Castle Street Car Park and opens from 7.00-9.00pm on each Wednesday evening. Should this be inconvenient for anybody who wishes to have a look around, before thinking of joining, then please contact the author to arrange a suitable time.

FAIR TRADE

I have been a voluntary rep for Traidcraft now for 35 years and am still excited by their catalogue of wonderful gifts, cards and produce they sell. Everything connects us to the craft producers and growers directly, and the Company continue to support the most vulnerable small holders and groups around the world helping them to a more sustainable life.

I will as usual be selling the Christmas Cards and gifts from October onwards and have them on display at my stalls in the URC and St Michael's. My 'At Home' will be held at the beginning of December so make a note of the date in your diaries to do some special Christmas shopping - Ethical, Eco-friendly, Global, Organic, Sustainable but above all FAIR.

CHRISTMAS SHOE BOXES

The shoe boxes will once again go to the isolated, desperately poor and vulnerable people in Bulgaria and Syria, where they are so loved and bring such joy. There is also a lasting legacy to these boxes as any surplus money, from the £3.00 distribution donations you can send with the boxes, goes towards helping prevent modern slavery. Young people are safe in the Houses of Opportunity where they receive love and kindness and the chance to make something of their lives, instead of being trafficked and exploited.

The final collection date, in St Michael's church is Sunday, 18th November, but I am very happy to receive your gifts before then.

Will you join us again to help transform Christmas, and beyond, by filling a box for those who get no other gifts? Leaflets are in the Church, Post Office, Jeans Electrical and K&M Beauty Salon. Huge Thanks.

MERE RIVERS GROUP

Wildlife Sightings for August

Thank you to those of you who contributed their records for August. There were fewer bird sightings, but this was probably due to adult birds going through their annual moult! However there were young birds out and visible. Also the water vole made its reappearance. Sightings for August were Water Vole 5 times, Grey Wagtail twice. There were single sightings of Kingfisher, Crayfish (probably signal) and common blue butterfly and daily sightings of the Moorhen family on the Shreen.

Nature Notes:

The dry summer may have taken its toll on the range of species we have all been seeing and recording. For example, we noted that there has not been the range of butterflies, that we might have expected. This is possibly due to the dry weather impacting on both the availability of nectar in the flowers and on the host plants which provide sites for laying and caterpillar food. As we write we note for example that we have seen very few peacock, commas and tortoiseshell butterflies. The variety which does seem to have been abundant, sorry gardeners, is the cabbage white!!

October is the month when animals and birds are stocking up their food reserves for winter so it should be a good time for seeing all forms of wildlife. We are grateful for and rely on your observations. Please keep these observations coming to:

RIVERS GROUP AND MERE MUSEUM JOINT EXHIBITION

October will be the last full month that you will be able to visit 'A Tale of Two Rivers' and its interesting updates.

This month's extras are a map of the Shreen Catchment within Mere Parish with its five contributing brooks, see our latest amazing wildlife sighting records, look at the data that Wessex Water send the Rivers Group to keep us informed about recent abstraction levels and flow rates, and work out how they reach the trigger point where they have to stop abstracting for export or be fined.

You will be surprised by the size of the Shreen Catchment.

2019 WYLYE VALLEY ART TRAIL

Next year will be the 10th Wylve Valley Art Trail (WVAT) for 10 days from Saturday, 18th until Monday, 27th May 2019 and we are looking for more Artists, Craftspeople and Groups to take part! Since being founded in 2001 by Nick Andrew, the biennial Wylve Valley Art Trail has established itself as the largest visual arts event in Wiltshire and has raised the cultural profile of this part of the county. The trail is now co-ordinated by Laura Rich and a team of volunteers. Last year there were 73 venues, scattered across some of the most beautiful countryside this county has to offer. A wide and eclectic patchwork of art and craft from over 300 participants, ranging from award-winning artists with international reputations to others only just starting out on their creative paths.

The Wylve Valley Art Trail is set in southwest Wiltshire, covering Warminster, Westbury, Wylve, Maiden Bradley, Mere, Hindon, Tisbury and villages between. Visit open studios and workplaces, galleries, exhibitions by art groups, student groups and other exciting events including 'hands on' activities, demonstrations, workshops and talks. A unique opportunity to see the high standard of visual arts and crafts currently being carried out in the area, across a wide range of skills, from painting to print-making, furniture making to photography and sculpture to ceramics. It offers the chance to meet the artists and, in many cases, see where and how they work.

Next year, in celebrating the 10th Wylve Valley Art Trail we would like to make it more inspiring, more memorable, and even more special! A vibrant festival of visual art excellence! So we want to send out an invitation to artists, craftspeople and groups to take part. Maybe those who are new to the area, just out of art college or have been considering participating for a while. The art trail is open to any artist who lives, works or has a strong interest or connection with this area. Full details can be found at  www.wvat.co.uk. SHREEN HARMONY IS 20 YEARS OLD!!

In 1998, Shreen Harmony was formed as part of the three-year Millennium Confluence project to help and encourage people to create new music for the River Stour neighbourhood.

Confluence was a national project with a local focus. It offered participatory music projects, workshops, courses, concerts and events for people living in the catchment area, from Wiltshire, where the Stour rises in Six Wells at Stourhead, through Dorset to the sea at Christchurch.

Helen Porter was Confluence's music animateur and Karen Wimburst its Composer in Residence.

Helen was active in bringing people together to sing, write and perform, for example helping inexperienced singers to enjoy their own voices in workshops, and setting up choirs and singing groups such as Shreen Harmony, who are the only remaining choir from the Project. Helen remained Shreen Harmony's Musical Director until 2004.

The music composed and played embraced many styles, but the inspiration for all the new compositions and events came from the river itself – from places, history, local stories, legends and myths.

The twenty-year anniversary was celebrated on Sunday, 9th September in Fontmell Magna Village Hall with performances of "watery" songs by Shreen Harmony and a performance on home-made instruments, followed by archive film of many of the moments from the project.

Our next concert will be on Saturday, 22nd December in the Grove Building – more details to follow in the December issue of Mere Matters.

CANCER RESEARCH

Although those 'Lazy, hazy days of Summer' are gone, there is plenty to keep you entertained as our Autumn Fair is almost here! The Lecture Hall is where we shall be on Saturday, the 6th of this month, from 10.00am until 12.00noon.

As previously disclosed, there will be home made cakes to buy, bric-a-brac, a raffle and tombola. Festive items and our Christmas cards will also be on sale, so do come along and support us.

Did you see the glorious sunflowers framing the doorway of The Walnut Tree? Sam and Mark Cassidy organised a competition to guess their height and very generously donated the proceeds - a total of £117 - to Mere Cancer Research. We are very grateful to them, their staff at the Walnut Tree Inn, and all the folk who took part for supporting us.

Finally, a note for your diaries: The Military Wives Choir is coming to Mere on the 9th December. It is going to be a truly uplifting and seasonal performance, not to be missed. More details on ticket sales and venue will appear in the November issue of Mere Matters.

Your support sustains and motivates us to carry on our work in Mere to fight cancer. Our committee and our helpers are a great bunch of people, and if you feel motivated to join us, even in a small way, do please contact:

MERE FILM SHOWS

The Mere Literary Festival film this year is The Guernsey Literary & Potato Peel Pie Society (12A) which is based on the best-selling novel by Mary Ann Shaffer & Annie Barrows.

In 1946 London Juliet Ashton (Lily James), is looking for something serious about which to write. An unexpected letter; a curiously named book club; a remote location and a pig farmer are the triggers that entice her to set sail for Guernsey, leaving behind a book signing tour and an American fiancé (Glen Powell), who had swept her off her feet. Also starring Penelope Wilton, Tom Courtenay and Matthew Goode.

We are sure that this is going to be very popular so do make sure you get your tickets from the library in advance or phone and reserve.

All profits will be going directly to the Mere & District Link Scheme and, on the night, there will be a raffle as well. Also, there might be some potato peel pie to sample!

MERE GARDENING CLUB

Austen's Arcadia:

The Georgian Gardens of Jane Austen

Dawn Collins

Wednesday, 10th October 7.30pm Grove Buildings

Dawn will provide an introduction to the development of Georgian Gardens and how they are reflected in Jane Austen's novels. Her talk straddles a bit of garden history, with references to Jane Austen's life and inspiration

In association with Mere Literary Festival with retiring collection.

Mere Garden Festival:

Mere garden Club would like to thank everyone who helped in any way to make their first Garden Festival such a great success. There was an amazing display of produce in spite of the difficult growing season, and the baskets of vegetables were particularly stunning. Visitors enjoyed voting for the best smelling rose and picture in the Art section; 'A scene of Mere'.

The new-style show was well attended with judges of the household section set a hard task with the wide array of delicious cakes and interesting preserve combinations. Judging was helped by John Jordan, Chairman of the Town Council and Mrs Tavenner, teacher at Mere School who had supported the festival by setting up a competition to create posters for the event and providing some wonderful curly peppers for display. The Grove Building was abuzz with nine different stalls and the wonderful display of art and photography revealing great talent.

The whole event was enlivened by music from JMS Folk Group and of course the delicious teas and cakes - there wasn't a crumb left!

MERE MUSEUM

The Mere Rivers Group's hugely popular current exhibition goes from strength to strength! A Tale of Two Rivers continues to attract visitors and positive comments in the Visitors' Book. What is more, the exhibition is frequently updated, so it's always worth popping in again even if you have already had a look. A newly-made map of the Shreen catchment area is very exciting and enlightening; if you thought you knew all there is to know about the Shreen, you need another look! The exhibition continues until November.

MERE BOWLS CLUB

By the time our readers get to see this article, the Club will be closed for another season. Our time to play is so short in that we have to get all our league matches, friendlies and internal Club games into five short months and still have time for our private lives. This can prove difficult at times, but as this is a sport that we love, we manage to fit it in somehow.

All our Club competitions are now completed, with the following winners shining through in the end; Anne Sidford, Jeff Hurt and Les Manwaring came out on top in the Triples, which was the first final of the season and was held at the end of May.

This was followed up by Mary Butchers and John FitzGerald winning the Mixed Pairs in June. The 2-Wood Pairs winners were Mo McCormack and Jeff Hurt who triumphed at the end of July.

At the end of August we held our Open Pairs competition with Richard Coombs and Alan Isgrove coming out on top, which was closely followed by the Aussie Pairs at the start of September where Mary and Don Butchers proved successful.

On the 8th September the Club held its Singles Finals where Richard Coombs defeated Mary Butchers by 21 to 15, Don Butchers overcame David Anley in the 2-Wood competition and John Sturges defeated Ron Heesom in the Novice Singles.

David Anley then won the 100 Up Singles title by defeating Phill Powell in a thrilling final. A huge thankyou to Chris Coombs, Tom Cardoza and Jeff Vigers who ran all the competitions in a truly competent manner.

REV'D CAROL WILSON-BARKER, PRIEST IN CHARGE OF ST MICHAEL THE ARCHANGEL, MERE & ST MARYS, WEST KNOYLE, WRITES:

Remembering and acting with thankfulness

Who could forget that this year we will be marking the 100th Anniversary of the end of the First World War. It is strange that it falls on a Sunday on the 11th itself; up and down the country special memorial plans are being made. Mere Town Council is erecting metal silhouette images of soldiers throughout the town in the streets or close to the locations where they lived.

On Saturday, 10th November starting at 11.00am by the Clock Tower I will be leading a walk of remembrance around the town to as many of these locations as we can. Pausing at each place to think of lives changed by war. We will gather at the Clock Tower as usual on Sunday morning for the Act of Remembrance followed on by a community service in the church.

This year the threat of violence from belligerent countries has come close to us not just terror attacks in London but more locally. I sat on the bench in Salisbury just a few months before the Skripals were found poisoned on it, then there are the two closed restaurants in Salisbury, and the sad death of a member of the public just 35 minutes from here. Russian state agents so close to the security of our homes.

Over the summer I saw the Russian punk rock group Pussy Riot. They were the women who staged a musical protest in St Basil's Cathedral in Moscow against the corrupt closeness between the church and Putin. Maria Aylokina, a band member, was brutally questioned and imprisoned for this protest. Her performance in music and film were a passionate testimony to a regime which is corrupt, vindictive and cynical. These things strengthen resolve to stand strong as a nation against Russian bullies.

Remembrance Sunday is the occasion when we remember as a nation those who have served their country standing up against tyrannical behaviour. This isn't a jingoism or a blind trust in all things done in our nation's name. It is a time to pause the good lives which many of us experience of relative wealth, health and freedom of expression. A time to remember with thanks those who died, whose lives are blighted in living and whose families are affected. We come together in quiet and thankful gratitude. Nothing should dilute that sense of thankfulness or sensitivity to those affected.

Jesus' central teaching was that we should love God with all our heart and love our neighbours as our selves. Remembrance Day asks that we renew our commitment to following that way of life all the weeks of the year as an act of thanks to those who died or were injured for the freedom and security that we enjoy .

With Blessings
